

Advanced EMDR Training Workshop
with
DOLORES MOSQUERA

Moving safely and quickly from stabilisation to processing traumatic memories when working with dissociative disorders:
Micro-processing procedures

Many EMDR clinicians struggle when it comes to deciding how to proceed with EMDR trauma work as some clients suffering from dissociative disorders may never seem to be stable enough. Dolores Mosquera will teach a progressive approach to working with traumatic memories which you can implement quickly and safely; the key is identifying possible indicators in each client. This workshop will illustrate specific micro-processing techniques that both increase client stabilisation and allow for working with parts of the traumatic memories. Dolores is an engaging and practical presenter who will develop her presentation with ample client videos and case examples.

Dolores Mosquera is an EMDR Europe accredited trainer and consultant and the director of the Spanish Institute for the Study of Trauma & Personality Disorder. She has published many books and articles on personality disorders, complex trauma and dissociation and is a recognised expert in this field. She is a prominent international trainer and speaker who has extensive teaching experience in leading seminars, workshops and lectures.

Target audience: Clinicians trained to EMDR Part 3 and above.
